

Amazon web service sign in

Your AWS account was suspended because your account details couldn't be verified.

To restore access to your account, check the email address associated with your account for an email from aws-verification@amazon.com. This email provides instructions for reactivating your account. If you don't respond by the date indicated in the email, you can't reopen the account or use it to access any AWS services. In addition, all content in your account is deleted.

If you don't receive a verification email from AWS or you are experiencing other problems with verifying your account details, contact AWS Support.
